

Adefolami Akintokun

Frontend Developer

I am a front end developer dedicated to building responsive, interactive and user-friendly websites and web applications. I use modern technologies such as React, Javascript, SASS, CSS and HTML to bring designs to life. I am committed to learning and personal growth and so I am usually up to date with the latest technologies and different methods of solving problems. I also have a passion for developing people and so I always make sure to help people get better wherever I find myself.

Experience

○ 2020 - 2021

Accommodation App for students

Team Lead and Front End Developer

I worked on developing an app to help students get accommodation without leaving the comfort of their beds. I did a lot of research work during my time working on this project and I was able to build my skill in market research and customer relationship. I also led a team of developers and creatives during this period.
